

PDMS exhibit at major UK Criminal Justice Event

Representatives from PDMS have just returned from a successful exhibition at the annual Criminal Justice Management event that took place at the QEII Conference Centre, London on 27th October.

The exhibition ran alongside the conference which will examine latest government policy, the next steps in transforming the criminal justice system and the change of emphasis towards community engagement.

PDMS demonstrated systems from some of their recent police projects including the new Police National Legal Database System and the national Police Frequently Asked Questions project.
